

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Joe Powers marketed over 60,000 baskets of strawberries from his plants in Newport this season.

Wayland P. Frost has been re-engaged as agent of Windham county by the officers of the farm bureau.

Co. I, Vermont National Guard, is now virtually assured for Brattleboro, 47 of the 50 men required having passed the physical examination. The company hopes later to have a state armory erected in Brattleboro.

Conrad Lareau, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lareau of Essex Junction, was drowned in the Winoski river, while bathing one day last week. He was with a younger brother and older sister, when they got into deep water and the nine-year-old became exhausted and sank in 20 feet of water. The body was recovered where it sank four hours later.

Richard Trombley, 26 years old, son of Mrs. Jerry Trombley, was instantly killed Saturday at his home in North Goshen. Mr. Trombley was sawing wood with a circular saw run by a gasoline engine. The arbor of the saw broke and the saw flew off, cutting off both his arms and cutting a terrible gash in his left side, the saw penetrating his heart. There were two young boys helping him.

Because of acts of a dog owned by Miss Mary T. Andrews of Putney, which she is alleged to have known was vicious, although she allowed it to run at large, Mabel Garland of Putney is suing her for $1,000 and Harold H. Bugbee of Putney for $300. The former alleges that the dog bit her on one leg, as a result of which she is suffering much, as the wound became infected, while Mr. Bugbee sues to recover damages resulting from the chasing of one of his Guernsey cows by the dog, claiming that the cow was injured and her flow of milk stopped. The cases are returnable at the September term of court.

CHANGED SEATS; ONE DROWNED.

Leslie Hunter Twice Last Week Swam Across Lake Bomoseen.

Rutland, July 21.—Leslie Hunter of Long Island, N. Y., a former second lieutenant in the United States cavalry, was drowned in Lake Bomoseen Sunday afternoon, the accident happening when he and his companion, Fremont L. Ross of Rutland, attempted to change seats in a canoe. After the boat overturned, Hunter started for shore with a powerful oar stroke that had carried him twice across the lake last week, while Ross began putting things back in the boat. Hunter called back that he was getting tired and Ross urged him to make for the shore, but Hunter seemed to be confused and, instead, started up the lake. When Ross was able to reach him he had relaxed and was unable to hold to the paddle, going down, while fishermen nearby either failed to hear Ross' calls or, having heard them, did not heed them. Ross swam to the shore and notified the cottagers of the accident.

STATE FAIR PREMIUM LIST.

Book is Just Out for the Big Vermont Event in September and October.

The Vermont state fair premium list, giving the details of all premiums to be paid exhibitors at the 1920 exhibition, to be held at White River Junction, Sept. 28, 29, 30 and Oct. 1, is just off the press and is being mailed from the office of Secretary Fred L. Davis. Exhibitors not on the regular mailing list and all others interested in the list may procure a copy by making request of Mr. Davis.

The executive committee of the state fair commission has been active for weeks in planning for this year's event. In the announcement made in the premium list the following appears:

"Our state fair is now recognized as one of the leading and best balanced fairs of stock and agricultural exhibitions in New England. The principal object of the fair is to exhibit the resources and products of our state and to stimulate Vermonters to greater efforts for the improvement and development of the state's agricultural and mechanical resources."

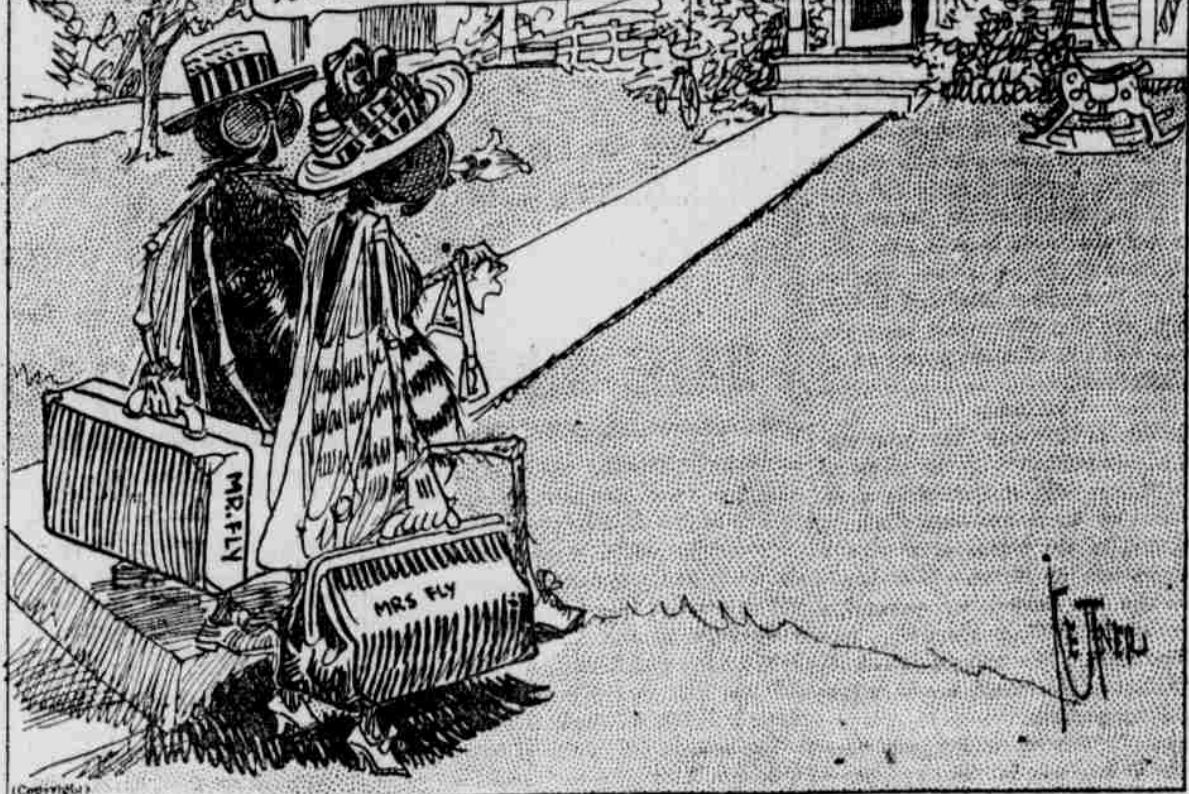

Trotting will be a big feature at the state fair this season. Purses aggregate $10,000. Many of the best trotting stock have already been entered for the events and this feature of the fair promises to be the best of the four-year state fair has been conducted.

Jersey Breeders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of Jersey breeders of the state of Vermont will be held at Quincey Falls farm, Quincey, on August 13th. Every person in any way interested in Jersey cattle should make it a point to attend this meeting and avail themselves of the opportunity to see Grace Darling of St. Mary's, the world's champion 12-year-old butter producer over all breeds; J. E. Girl's Oxford, the only living son of the great Oxford Lad, and many other noted Jerseys. Prominent speakers will be present representing the American Jersey Cattle Club, Jersey a Vermont, and a three-minute talk

TROOPS TO MESOPOTAMIA.

British Sending Them from India to Cope with Arab Revolt.

London, July 21.—Large reinforcements for the British troops have been ordered from India to Mesopotamia to cope with the Arab revolt there, it was announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Winston Churchill, secretary of war, who added that there was no reason for anxiety.

SERGT. McLAIN OUT WITH FACTS

Well-Known Salvation Army Worker Says Her Splendid Health is Due to Tanlac

Mrs. Sarah McLain, a popular Salvation Army sergeant residing at 5 N. Summer Court, Portland, Maine, is now an ardent champion of the merits of the "Master Medicine" Tanlac since she began taking it a few weeks ago. Mrs. McLain has been associated with the Salvation Army nearly all her life and has followed the good work both in England and the United States. She has carried on her work of charity in Portland for the past twenty-five years and is highly respected and esteemed by all who know her.

While discussing Tanlac, which has been so beneficial to her, Mrs. McLain said:

"I am deeply indebted to Tanlac for the good it has done me and will always praise it. My improvement has been so great that my friends have noticed it and have remarked about how well I look."

"But before I began taking Tanlac I was in an awful rundown condition as a result of a serious operation three years ago, the effect of which I had not been able to overcome. My appetite was very poor, and having to live on the very lightest of foods on account of a weak stomach and bad digestion. I became extremely weak and nervous. The work of preparing breakfast for the family tired me so I would have to lie down and rest, and at times I was so nervous that I was almost frantic. I also had the worst kind of pains through my chest and just felt perfectly awful."

"One day I was looking over the paper and came across a testimonial that described my case so well that I decided to try Tanlac, and I can truthfully say I began feeling better right from the start and my pains disappeared with the first bottle. I have taken four bottles now and seem to be in just perfect condition. My nerves are steady and normal and I have strength to do my housework without feeling all tired out like I did before, my appetite has returned and I can eat and enjoy my three hearty meals a day and am feeling like an entirely different person. Tanlac is one medicine that everybody should know about, and as it was a testimonial that caused me to take it I feel that I ought to make a statement myself and try to help others."

Tanlac is sold in Barre by the Barre Drug Co., in Northfield by Nat. A. Wheeler, in Waterbury by Bishin & Bishin, and in Westerville by E. H. Nerney.—Adv.

WHY LOANS ARE WITHHELD.

Secretary M. C. Taft of Chelsea National Farm Loan Association Makes Statement.

The following statement is by M. C. Taft, secretary-treasurer of the Chelsea National Farm Loan Association: "Many farmers of Orange county may not fully understand why the Chelsea National Farm Loan association is not making loans this summer, as was expected, through the federal land bank of Springfield, Mass., as heretofore."

"It was not known for certain until a short time ago that loans would not be made this summer. But loans that were approved before March 1, 1920, will be closed and the money paid to the borrower."

"The suspension of business for this summer is due to an action brought by the Farm Mortgage Bankers' association, which association is opposed to the federal land banks, to test the constitutionality of the farm loan act and especially the tax exemption features of the farm loan bonds from state and local taxation."

"The money that is received from the sale of the farm loan bonds is the only source of getting money to loan to the farmers. These bonds issue upon the security of farm mortgages and these bonds being tax free they have sold very readily, so the federal land banks have been able to fulfill all demands of the American farmer, up to the time of the bringing of this action. This action has naturally prevented the sale of the farm loan bonds. The suit was instituted last August in the form of an equity proceeding in the U. S. district court for the western district of Missouri."

"The case was heard before Judge Van Vandenburgh on Oct. 30 and 31 of last year, coming before him in the form of a motion. The arguments in defense of the farm loan act were presented by W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, George Wickerman, former attorney general, and Charles E. Hughes, former justice of the U. S. supreme court. They were opposed by W. M. Billitt and Frank Hagerman. Upon conclusion of the arguments the court dismissed the action and held that the farm loan act was constitutional."

"The Farm Mortgage Bankers' association took an appeal to the U. S. supreme court and the case was argued Jan. 6. It was hoped that the U. S. supreme court would decide the case shortly thereafter, but the court has, however, ordered a re-argument; therefore, the decision is delayed and is the sole cause of suspension of business this summer."

"Congress has, however, passed legislation that will take care of all applications upon which loans have been approved up to March 1, 1920, which amounts to about fifty million dollars."

"The Farm Mortgage Bankers' association is strongly opposed to the farm loan act. It knows that when the federal land banks lend money on long terms and at a low interest rate it hurts its business, and, of course, it is doing all it can against the federal land bank and is hoping for a long delay in the rendition of the supreme court's decision."

"A decision will no doubt be rendered in due time so business will be resumed in the spring."

"All applications now on file with the secretary-treasurer will be held over unless otherwise ordered by the applicants."
